

Impact of demographic change in Europe

Findings by the European Commission show the need to be well-equipped to support people through demographic change